About the Role

Key responsibilities

- Define and lead national access, pricing, and reimbursement strategies for products and portfolio in alignment with commercial and brand objectives.
- Identify, evaluate, and prioritize Value & Access strategic choices that maximize commercial growth and portfolio impact.
- Translate global access guidance into locally relevant strategies adapted to healthcare system, policy, and payer dynamics.
- Embed access strategies within integrated brand and portfolio plans across all stages of the product lifecycle, including launch and line extensions.
- Generate and apply deep healthcare system, customer, and payer insights to inform access strategies and engagement models.
- Collaborate closely with Medical Affairs, Commercial, Finance, Strategic Account Teams, and Customer Experience roles to ensure aligned execution.
- Build and maintain strong relationships with external decision makers, representing Novartis in access-related discussions and negotiations.
- Lead and support negotiations by recommending positioning and adapting approaches based on market and policy evolution.
- Oversee portfolio maintenance and lifecycle access activities, including pricing reviews, reimbursement renewals, and access renegotiations.
- Monitor access performance through defined KPIs, sharing best practices and driving continuous improvement across brands and teams.

Essential Requirements

- University degree in life sciences, economics, or a related field; advanced degree is an advantage; fluent English and Spanish languages required.
- 5–8 years of experience in market access, pricing, or reimbursement roles within pharmaceutical or healthcare environments.
- Proven exposure to national access processes and payer negotiations across product launches and lifecycle phases.
- Strong understanding of healthcare systems, pricing, reimbursement, and policy environments.
- Ability to translate evidence, HEOR outputs, and system insights into compelling access value propositions.
- Strong project management and stakeholder engagement skills in matrix environments.

- Strategic, analytical mindset with the ability to prioritize and operate effectively in complex settings.
- Strong influencing skills, high integrity, and comfort leading without direct authority.

Benefits & Rewards
